COGSWELL FAMILY ASSOCIATION NEWSLETTER #4 May, 1991

Dear CFA Members,

Planning for our annual meeting in Pemaquid, Maine, during the September 27-29, 1991, weekend continues. Claire Daigle of Ware, Massachusetts, is serving as Meeting Chairman, assisted by Ed Cogswell of Albion, Maine. As detailed in our last newsletter, activities will include a banquet with the speaker to be Dr. Warren Riess, nautical archaeologist searching for the wreckage of the Angel Gabriel, which brought John Cogswell and family to Pemaquid in 1635. A plaque commemorating their landing will be dedicated, and other events such as a visit to the museum housing artifacts of the early days and a boat ride to see local sights are planned.

Arrangements for housing are difficult to make until the various inns begin to open for the summer season. Depending on the number of members in attendance, we probably will have to be housed in more than one location, as there is no large hotel in the immediate area. To enable the committee to locate and get commitments for sufficient good housing, it is essential that we know approximately how many will be attending the gathering. Included with this letter is a questionnaire for each member to use to indicate the likelihood of his or her attendance. It would be most helpful to the committee if you would complete this form to the best of your ability at this time and return it to Claire Daigle soon. when plans

USS COGSWELL (DD—651)

Several members have supplied information on the USS COGSWELL, a general purpose destroyer built in Bath, Maine, by the Bath Iron Works and commissioned in Boston, Massachusetts, on August 17, 1943. The ship was named after Rear Admiral James K. Cogswell and his son, Captain Francis Cogswell. Fully loaded, the COGSWELL displaced about 2900 tons, was 376 feet in length, had a maximum beam of 39 feet, and a speed of over 30 knots. The COGSWELL's missions included naval gunfire support, anti-submarine warfare, anti-air defense, escort, convoy, and rescue duties.

The COGSWELL joined the U.S. Pacific fleet in December 1943 and took part in numerous engagements from New Guinea to Japan. She was present in Tokyo Bay in August 1945 for the signing of the Japanese surrender. The COGSWELL was decommissioned and placed in the Reserve Fleet in January 1946 but was brought back into active service in June 1951 and participated in the Korean Conflict in 1953. Between then and December 1968 she operated as a unit of the Seventh Fleet in the Pacific some twelve times and four times supported operations in Vietnam. Later the ship operated out of San Diego for several months while providing services to various fleet schools and participating in fleet exercises. The COGSWELL was later decommissioned one last time and transferred to the Turkish Navy, where she operates as the TCG IZMIT(D-342).
